

The consolidation that has already occurred in radio has had a very detrimental effect on the quality and variety of radio programming. Television is a very powerful media and I believe it would be very dangerous to allow this kind of consolidation to occur in television.